

The KT80 Symposium invites you to a talk by

KT80 Symposium

The Kindertransport 80 Years On

DIANE SAMUELS

author of the play Kindertransport

on

Theatre of Separation and Survival: The Life and Impact of the play Kindertransport

Diane Samuels' Kindertransport

The author's guide to the play

Diane Samuels will talk about her play which has been performed around the world and widely studied in schools since it was first performed in 1993.

Diane wrote the play after being inspired by meeting a number of surviving Kinder. The play went on to win the Verity Bargate and Mayer Whitworth awards. With the 80th anniversary of the Kindertransports, the themes emerging from these child refugees is more relevant than ever.

In this talk, she invites discussion as she reflects upon the process of writing the play and the impact of displacement, childhood separation, the price of survival and finding a way to heal.

22 January 2019

7:30pm

MacMillan Hall-Senate House. University of London
Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU

To register for a free ticket:

KT80symposium.eventbrite.co.uk

Ticket required for entry to the event

Sponsored by:

